PROPOSED EXPANSIONS OF THE BUSINESS DISTRICT are roughly illustrated in the cross-hatched sections of this map of the central business district. Specific delineations will be spelled out in the Planning Board's warrant article which is to appear in the Feb. 3 issue of the TOWNSMAN. In general, the board proposes squaring off blocks which are now partially encompassed in the commercial zone.

News Capsules

Dr. Milton J. Meyers of Andover has been named chairman of a committee to plan a 75th anniversary celebration for the Lawrence Boys' Club. The event is tentatively scheduled for May.

William Turner, 19 Downing St., has been named chairman of the area's Trades Club of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. John R. William, 36 Whitfield St., will serve as vice chairman and Mrs. Rosalie V. E. Dodd, 45 Summer St., is secretary.

Harold Howe II, the former Andover teacher who is now U. S. Commissioner of Education, has written thanking Andover school officials for their good wishes, sent when his appointment was announced recently. He expressed great interest in the fact that William A. Doherty, veteran school committeeman, is still on the board. Doherty has served 34 years.

Atty. Newman Seeks School Board Job

Irving L. Newman, 133 Lovejoy Rd., a practicing attorney, with offices in Lawrence, is seeking a post on the Andover School Committee in the March election. Mr. Newman was an unsuccessful candidate for the same committee in 1965.

A specialist in government procurement and construction contracts, Newman was educated at M.I.T. and Boston College Law School. During World War II, he was a design engineer for the Oak Ridge, Tenn. atomic project and a development engineer working with experimental radar. In the post war years, he became a consultant management engineer, concerned with the administrative and managerial problems of private business.

Hart Releases Specs For JHS Renovation

Principal William E. Hart turned in a set of educational specs calling for complete renovation of the west wing of the junior high school when he met with the School Committee Tuesday to summarize the findings from an evaluation study made at his school last spring by a team of outside educators.

Hart said the renovation is necessary if he is to make the sort of program changes recommended by the evaluators. The specs are for modernized facilities that would accommodate 800 students instead of the 1,000 now housed.

He proposed a three phase program of renovation, timed for completion in 1967 when opening of the new high school is to free the present high school building as a second facility for seventh, eighth and ninth grade students.

Much of the discussion on the evaluation report itself was focused on the language program and the recommendation that controlled study be given over an extended period to compare the results achieved under the direct (traditional) method of teaching French and the newer audio-lingual (ALM) method.

Board Race Wide Open

PAUL W. CRONIN

Selectman Paul W. Cronin ends speculation about his immediate future today with the announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1966.

This leaves Charles H. Richmond the only announced candidate in the running for the single seat to be contested next March.

Cronin made his plans known in the following statement:

"For the past several weeks I have been weighing the many responsibilities that I have to my family, to the town of Andover and to the Fifth Congressional District.

Pfc. Collins Says "Thanks"

Pfc. Thomas O. Collins has relayed through his mother, Mrs. Thomas R. Collins, Sweeney Ct., his "thanks and appreciation to each and everyone" for the cards and packages sent him during the Christmas season by TOWNSMAN readers.

Collins writes that where he is on the Da Nang perimeter, there has been no time for letter writing.

It may be that the young soldier has a surprise coming that could make up for a lot. His mother reports that Pfc. Collins' father, Thomas R. Collins, a Merchant Marine, is on a tanker that has been assigned to serve as a stationary ship supplying Da Nang forces. His crew will pick up provisions etc. from larger vessels off shore and get them to port. If the necessary official clearance can be wangled, the elder Collins hopes to have a brief reunion with his son at Da Nang.

Call 475-0924

The Board of Selectmen established the order of a 64-article Town Meeting warrant Tuesday, one that includes requests for $700,000 for construction of a new central fire station and $45,000 to finance a tax equalization program.

Sought in what it is hoped will be a lucky Article 13, is the appropriation of $225,000 for three ground wells. It is, in effect, an expression of optimism about the outcome of the current geophysical search for fresh sources of ground water to replenish the dwindling supply in municipal reservoirs. It is inserted in the warrant now to eliminate the need for a special town meeting, and will be dropped if no major sources are discovered.

The only other major money article in the warrant is one for $250,000 for extensive water system improvements in West Andover. To be completed is the water line that is to loop from Chandler Road to North Street to Cross Street to High Plain Road to Greenwood Road.

Both the fire house and tax equalization measures are administration sponsored. Discussion of a new central fire station was underway here well in advance of a 1964 report on Andover fire protection facilities by the New England Fire Underwriters Assn. which listed replacement of the station as one of its major recommendations.

Site Specified

The warrant article specifies Stevens Street as a new location and calls for the taking of three lots, one of them on the corner of Main and Stevens Streets across from the old Marland Mill. Selectmen Stewart voiced some objection Tuesday to acquisition of the corner lot, but agreed to leave it in for a later decision based on how much and what sort of area seems best suited to the fire department's needs.

CANDIDATE COUNTDOWN

January 31 at 5 p.m. is the deadline for candidates who wish to file for participation in the March 7 town election. The field to date includes:

Board of Selectmen - Charles F. Richmond, 48 Prospect Rd.
School Committee - Mrs. Richard H. (Barbara G.) Moody, 12 Suncrest Rd., incumbent.
Irving L. Newman, 133 Lovejoy Rd.

Moderator - Arthur Williams, 149 Haverhill St., incumbent.

Housing Authority - Thomas P. Eldred, 8 Burnham Rd., incumbent.

Trustee, Punchard School - William V. Emmons, 9 Locke St.

Parking Is TM Issue

Safely in the warrant, despite objections from Town Manager Richard Bowen, are Planning Board articles that would enlarge the central business district and set minimum parking standards for new or expanding downtown businesses. Obviously harboring some doubts about how well satisfied merchants will be with this latest batch of parking proposals, the selectmen left the way open for a possible recommendation against adoption of what the planners consider an urgent necessity.

It had been predicted that the selectmen would attempt Tuesday to persuade the Planning Board to drop presentation of a parking article again this year. Previous articles have met with organized

Water Ban In Effect

Salt or no salt, Andover cars cannot be washed in Andover.

Town Manager Richard Bowen has issued a reminder that the water use ban is still on. He pointed out that there has been no improvement in the water situation to warrant a lessening of restrictions.

His reminder was prompted by the fact that some residents, apparently under the impression that the ban did not apply in winter, have been observed washing their cars.

Sgt. Porembe Home To Stay

It is a long way home from a foxhole, but Sgt. Joseph Porembe, of Andover, USA has made the journey, bearing what may be the permanent scars of his last encounter with the enemy.

Sgt. Porembe, 39, was wounded by a grenade blast last November as he fought with 1st Cavalry Division troops in the Central Highlands district of South Vietnam.

Now he is home to stay and expects to finish out the balance of a 20 year hitch (ending next fall) teaching younger, less experienced men about what they can do to survive in a steaming, infested jungle.

From the veteran soldier's description of military life in Vietnam, it is obvious that the G. I. fights just as continual a battle with the elements as he does with the Viet Cong. It takes perpetual effort to keep comfortable in a climate where 100 degree temperatures are the norm and the moisture-laden air spreads mildew like the plague. At night, says Porembe, the soldier goes to sleep in his foxhole covered with a heavy nylon blanket which keeps him warm by repelling the settling "dew."

The men keep on the move, making rare returns to the base camp for a change of clothes and diet. Most meals they dine on sea rations, and go thirty. In a country where it can rain every five or ten minutes in the monsoon season and where the air is perpetually heavy with humidity, cool, potable water is not easy to come by and what the soldier usually gets is so badly chlorinated that many have taken to killing the taste with that children's favorite,

Kool-Aid. (Porembe recommends it as a gift suggestion)

The sergeant says the war in Vietnam is strictly a political war, and totally unlike any he has been in or associated with. He fought with U. S. forces in Korea and stayed on for the occupation. In addition, he was with occupation forces in both Europe and Japan following World War II.

In Korea, he says, you had a front and a pretty clear idea of where your enemy was. In Vietnam "the enemy may work for you" all day and take pot shots at you all night," says Porembe. This is in spite of constant screening to prevent infiltration.

Sgt. Porembe has very clear notions about how the war will end. He is convinced that the Viet Cong cannot continue to swallow their losses and that victory is certain for the South Vietnamese and American troops. But he is equally certain that it will be an uneasy peace. "If we have a truce," he said, "it will be a stalemate like Korea. Someone will have to stay for a long time."

Sgt. Porembe said he had so little direct contact with the South Vietnamese people that he has no clear picture of what they are like. He does feel that they are too deeply religious to be automatically swept toward the Communism that some critics of U. S. policy feel is inevitable.

He knows that the Viet native wants a better life because he has seen numbers of them line up and stand for hours to wait for a bar of American soap or the distribution of medical supplies, even a salt pill.

From his understanding of the situation, Porembe says the South Vietnam people are instinctively suspicious of U. S. promises because they remember how the French swept in and swept out, leaving little in the way of progress behind. He feels what we are doing to help improve village living conditions has done more than anything to convince some that we do not intend to follow the French pattern. The Viet people are critical of the French colonial government because it filled most key jobs with French civil servants, educating few of their countrymen sufficiently to qualify them for self-government.

Porembe said that in the highlands, where he was stationed, he saw only one school. And he reports that the people are ill fed and the perpetual victims of nutritional diseases.

To further complicate the future for South Vietnam, he said that as it stands now, the hill people do not want to have anything to do with the Saigon government. It is all to remote from their independent sort of existence.

The sergeant paid surprise visits to Sanborn and Jackson schools while here to thank children personally for the cards they sent him at Christmas time. He said he has never been prouder than he was when the children at Jackson School stood at attention for his entry.

Porembe is uncertain of his own future. He is considering school, and considering also relocation to one of the southern states. And still ahead of him is further treatment for an eye that may or may not give him vision in the future.

As a tie to Andover, he has two children living here along with his mother Mrs. Marie Mitchell and a sister.

JHS RENOVATION

There has been controversy within the French department over use of ALM and the school is presently offering both direct and audio-lingual courses.

When questioned Hart indicated that both methods give equal proficiency in reading, writing and speaking. He did say, however, that students with a strong background in English grammar are best equipped to handle courses taught by the direct method and that class assignments are made on this basis. He told the board that though the student is not given a preference, he may be transferred from one track to the other if his performance warrants it.

In the discussion on languages, Hart said he would like to start Spanish in both the seventh and ninth grades, but is unable to do so until the space situation changes.

Among recommendations made in the survey were the following:

That the position of assistant principal be made a full time job, that the pupil-teacher ratio be lowered, that facilities be provided to further the team teaching aspects of the English program, that consideration be given to controlled study of results achieved under the direct method of language instruction as compared with the linguistic approach, and that immediate attention be given to creating the area of the library.

(Additional coverage will be given this survey report and steps already taken to implement the recommendations in a later issue of the TOWNSMAN.)

Broadleaved evergreens suffer during winter from leaf-burn and accompanying winter-kill. Horticulture magazine advises spraying them with one of the commercial products developed to protect plants from this type of injury. Such products are readily available in most garden supply stores.

Yarns Program

The Red yarns group of Littlest Listeners at Ballardvale will hear animal stories when they meet with Mrs. Martha MacCausland on Thursday, Jan. 25 at ten o'clock. January is "animal month" at the branch. Stories from which Mrs. MacCausland is selecting are:

Langstaff - FROG WENT A-COURTIN'; Ipcar - WILD AND TAME ANIMALS AND STRIPES AND SPOTS; Flack - ASK MR. BEAR; Goudey - JUPITER AND THE CATS; Lent - PISTACHIO; and Fatio - THE HAPPY LION.

These books may be taken out for reading at home starting the first of February. Meanwhile Mrs. MacCausland will take the names of those who would like to borrow them.

Blue yarns on Jan. 27 will also hear animal stories starting at 10 a.m.

Tibet, Anyone?

Stories about Tibet will be featured this Saturday, Jan. 22 in the children's room at 10 a.m. Mrs. Margaret Berry will tell about the "Stone Lion", "Country of the Niece" and "Shen of the Sea". All boys and girls of school age are welcome.

Calling The Racoons

All Coons of pre-school age will meet in the children's room on Jan. 25 for their program with Miss Elizabeth Russell at 10 o'clock. The Coons acquired their name from the name tags they wear at their story book meetings.

Among New Books

Recently arrived books are as varied as - well, as the recent weather. ANTI-WOO, THE FIRST LIFEMANSHIP GUIDE - Potter, is a do-it-yourself-guide in the war between the sexes, that good-humored battle which enlisted the talents of the late James Thurber. A beautiful and impressive book is the HORIZON BOOK OF ANCIENT GREECE which will remind visitors of the special sky that is the backdrop to hill-top temples and which will dispell the dusty memories of plaster friezes around various school rooms. This is a lively tour for the armchair adventurer. Dr. Spock's CARING FOR YOUR DISABLED CHILD is a guide, mainly for parents to family adjustments, daily care, maturation, education and the child's vocational future.

Some very well-known novelists have new books this month: John Hersey - WHITE LOTUS; James Baldwin - GOING TO MEET THE MAN; Innes - THE STRODE VENTURER; O'Hara - THE LOCKWOOD CONCERN; J. B. Priestly - LOST EMPIRES; James Ruark - THE HONEY BADGER; Anya Seton - AVALON; Rex Stout - THE DOORBELL RANG. Young Adult Corner Beatle John Lennon speaks to teens and calls it A SPANIARDIN

THE WORKS, About as complicated to read as Joyce or Chaucer, it is an evening's diversion for the fans. Beloved in most circles Tom Dooley is the subject of BEFORE I SLEEP and GIVE JOY TO MY YOUTH.

HOW TO BEAT THE HIGH COST OF COLLEGE by Claire Cox and THE ART OF SURVIVAL by Troebst sound like a double bill, but the most they have in common is their appeal and the fact that they have the newest information to date in their two fields.

MAJOR COLLINS FINISHES COURSE

Army Maj. George R. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Everett Collins, 35 Summer St., completed an airborne course conducted by the Army Special Action Force, Asia, Dec. 7, on Okinawa. The major, 32, a dental officer at the U. S. Army Medical Center on Okinawa, entered the Army in 1959 and was last assigned at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

He was graduated from Hebron (Maine) Academy High School in 1951 and from Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Va. in 1955.

PARKING ARTICLE

Town Meeting resistance. But the manager spoke out against the necessary zoning amendments to a discussion between the boards held just ahead of the scheduling of the warrant.

The Planning Board is presenting articles both for the expansion of the central business district and for the amending zoning by-laws to add parking requirements for new or expanding businesses.

Harold King, chairman, told selectmen that his board is determined that the town shall not have one without the other. Unless the parking minimums are established, they will speak out against any enlargement of the business district. King said to enlarge the commercial zone without setting parking requirements would be to invite the same kind of overdevelopment that has already created downtown problems.

Reinforcing King's comments board member James Eaton added that "If nothing is done you can have a brick wall from street to street and no one can do a thing about it."

He said he does not share Manager Bowen's optimism that the business community will be any more cooperative than it has been in the past about agreeing to workable solutions.

Both Eaton and King expressed the feeling that if the Andover Chamber of Commerce is taking more cooperation than usual, it is because the threat of zoning regulations has stimulated greater activity.

The manager spoke in favor of holding off on zoning changes until it can be seen what impact clearing of the Shorten garage property, the eventual freeing of the central fire station and the hall sites may have on the parking situation. He agreed with the planners however, that restrictions are needed in any new area opened for commercial expansion.

King said that future additional municipal parking space in town hall or other areas of town would lessen the parking requirements for businesses located within 400 feet of the areas. For some it would mean they could enlarge without supplying any additional parking at all. Any business whose parking need (based on the square foot of usable store space) is for fewer spaces is not expected to supply parking at all, the chairman explained.

The chairman said conversations he has had with business men since the latest revision of the proposed amendments indicate that there is a better understanding of what the board is trying to do and more apparent willingness to try to work within the framework of the suggested regulations.

Clergy On Race Panel

Rev. Vernon E. Carter, Boston civil rights leader, will join Andover clergymen in a panel discussion about the relationship of the churches to the country's race problems scheduled for the Kemper Auditorium on Feb. 8 at 8 p.m.

Andover Citizens for Equal Opportunity is sponsoring the panel which will include Rev. Bruce Blair of the West Parish Church, Rev. J. Edison Pike of Christ Church, Rev. Paul Keyes of St. Robert Bellarmine Church and Rev. Hartland Gifford of Faith Lutheran Church.

Rev. Carter attracted widespread attention to his struggle for better education for the Negroes last year when he picked the Boston school committee for many days. In addition, he has long worked diligently to improve job opportunities and housing for Negroes.

Interested residents are invited to attend the discussion and participate in the question period to follow.

Pollution Is Prime Topic

Andover is still participating with a wait-and-see attitude in the preparation plans for a regional sewage district to include Lawrence, Methuen, North Andover and Andover.

The most recent discussions have related to legislation which will be proposed to create such a district. The subject of whether or not the district would have to hire through Civil Service was debated at the most recent meeting, a session which was not attended by an Andover delegate.

The pollution abatement committee will next meet on Jan. 27. Officials from the South East Suburban District (Danvers, Salem and their neighboring communities) have been asked to attend.

Worry

At first glance, there seems little connection between the physical act of "strangling" and the mental process of "worrying." However, the word "worry" is derived from the old German word wurgen meaning "to choke."

Somewhat, by extension, the term came to be used to denote "mental strangulation" . . . and, then, to describe the condition of being harassed with anxiety or care.

Eighty-three ninth graders at Andover Junior High School have received gold certificates for scoring in the top 10% of their grade level on 1965-66 National Educational Development Tests.

Proud of the results, Principal William E. Hart said this week school officials consider the local students made an impressive showing. He was unable, however, to relate the percentage to other statistics on the test since he has not been supplied with a figure for the total number of U.S. ninth graders participating.

Hart said the national tests were developed after a number of educators expressed the need for a ninth grade testing program offering information and services comparable to those provided for 11th grade students by the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Complete Selections
at Mid-City Supply . . .

Mid-City Supply has been located at 92 Broadway in Lawrence for the past four years. Salvatore Di Prima, Samuel Froman and Julian Schwartz established the store in 1957 at 71 Broadway. When they outgrew those quarters they purchased and renovated the former Strand Theater into a most attractive store. Inside those doors you will find a most amazing display of lighting fixtures - ceiling, wall, table and floor - wherever you can imagine using one - and in styles to suit everyone. Upstairs you will find artist, drawing and draftsman supplies. In fact, Mid-City Supply has the most complete line to be found in the Lawrence area. Do you need paper of a particular weight or finish, artist's pads, canvas boards, canvas by the yard or stretch canvas to fit a particular frame? Brushes and an easel? Such a selection may make it hard for you to choose. If you need assistance in making a decision, Mr. Di Prima or Louise Kennedy will gladly help you. As for mediums to work in, you have a choice of Grumbacher water colors, soft pastels, tempera colors and oils, and the New Master acrylics which are similar to oils but dry quicker. If you need instruction try a Walter Foster Art Book. There must be at least fifty to choose from. When your painting is done, you will find matting supplies and many picture frames to best display your subject. You may want a picture light for over the frame. For drawing and drafting instruments Mid-City Supply handles Alvin sets and individual pieces to suit your needs. For the engineer, electrician, carpenter or other professional man there are a variety of templates and rulers. In addition there are finishes for antiquing frames or furniture, metallic finish paints and lettering for trucks. Anxious to get started? Drive over to Mid-City Supply soon, located on Broadway a block north of the old Post Office. There's ample free parking to the rear of the store.

Over $1,000,000 in Slips Expected at Andover CO-OP

Something unique is going on this month among savvy food shoppers in this vicinity.

Several thousand canny homemakers, most of whom actually own the store in which they shop for groceries, are turning in an accounting of their 1965 purchases.

The store in question is the only consumers' cooperative in this area.

It operates on the principle that any net surplus for the past year's operation goes back to the people who made that surplus possible. It is distributed to them in proportion to their purchases.

Yet the CO-OP is a strictly capitalistic society. It even makes capitalists out of numerous people who never before owned a share of stock. It pays them a good dividend rate. And it urges them to participate in running the business in a democratic way.

January is the CO-OP's month of reckoning. And the returns are piling sky high.

Unsung Heroes

It is a disgrace that with the approach of every election newspaper editors must feel compelled to cry out for responsible citizens to step forward as candidates for public office. It is a disgrace because we avow such devotion to democracy.

To one who is hit all year long with a steady barrage of "Why don't they..." complaints it is a perpetual wonder — How is it that Andover can nurture so many critics of government and spawn so few people ready to try their hand at governing?

Some say they resist the urge because they will not be subjected to the sort of punishment we give our School Committee and Board of Selectmen. It is an understandable but hardly a courageous explanation.

It is true that Andover makes great demands on its public servants and rarely expresses anything but ingratitude for their efforts. It can be that voters, disillusioned by the frequent disclosure of questionable behavior on the part of some national and state political figures, are conditioned to looking for snakes in every clump of weeds.

But whatever the reason, it should not deter the citizen who feels he has something to offer Andover. Let him be reminded that the grassroots DOERS of the world are always the unsung heroes.

To Our Readers . . .

Along with the boys in Vietnam, we want to thank readers of the TOWNSMAN for responding with such warmth and in such volume to our pre-Christmas OPERATION MORALE venture.

The unexpected flow of thank you messages from the eleven men who received your cards, letters and packages, along with a copy of the Christmas issue of the TOWNSMAN, has been rewarding beyond all expectations.

We cannot share their task, or even fully comprehend it. We can only feel enriched for having given a modicum of pleasure to a handful of lonely men.

What it meant to them to hear from you has been well expressed in their letters and word-of-mouth messages, sent in the weeks since the holiday. This latest letter, from deep in Vietnam, is a fitting summary:

To The People Of Andover

I wish to extend my deepest appreciation for the cards and gifts I and other hometown boys have received this holiday season.

Though we fight in Vietnam, our hearts and thoughts are of home, just as your hearts and thoughts were with us. And to you, the people of Andover, I say that the contributions you gave us more than made a light in this war darkened land.

We all pray to return home soon and live in a free world for which so many men have already died.
SP/4 John Kevin Lynch 1st Bde. 101st Airborne Div.

A Suggestion

We have a suggestion for the School Committee.

Why not adopt a policy of releasing such school department items as the now-controversial junior high school evaluation report to members of the committee and the press simultaneously, thereby eliminating the need for further hassles over procedure?

We can fully understand why at least some members of the board do not want to get their first word of major School Committee developments from the press, any more than they want such news to come their way via the citizen grapevine. It can lead to the sort of confusion and embarrassment they experienced earlier in the year when they were hit with inquiries on the battery of Federal Educational Opportunities tests given here without advance notice last fall.

But we can see no reason why news on such items as the junior high evaluation (already long overdue) should be held past the date when it is delivered to the committee. In this particular instance, it has only served to increase speculation about the content of the report, a study done last spring by a team of outside educators. Both the committee and the press should have access not only to the principal's summary but to the whole of the report.

The voting of a "simultaneous" policy would give the superintendent a clear directive, eliminating any concern he might have about protocol.

It could easily include a clause to provide for a suspension of the rule in any instance where the involving of personalities might make suppression advisable.

This kind of policy would eliminate at least one area of conflict for a committee that spends too much time debating procedure.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — January, 1891

The number of births in town in 1890, which were not given in our vital statistics two weeks ago, was 120 — 60 males and 60 females. In 1889 there were 130.

Several scholars in Punchard School have revived the L & S. Society which existed from 1880 up to last year and for some reason or other was dropped. Its object is for literary and scientific advances, the exercises including debates, declamations, readings, music. Special scientific studies such as electricity are to be taken up in connection with it.

Fred Goff has retired from the office of the Tyer Rubber Co. and accepted a position in the Howard National Bank in Boston.

David I. Mountain has moved from town to Frye Village again and has taken the house recently occupied by James Blamire.

The second crop of ice on Poor's Pond yesterday morning measured 14 inches in thickness.

The Electric Light Co. has recently connected its station with the fire alarm system into operation between Andover and Ballardvale. This has been done at their own expense.

50 Years Ago — January, 1916

Repb. Nesbit G. Gleason of Andover has been elected clerk of the committee on municipal finances at this session of the Massachusetts Legislature.

At the West Church parsonage on last Saturday morning, Wallace H. Angus and Miss Vernie Pike were united in marriage by Rev. Newman Matthews.

The Ballardvale Spring Co. is harvesting its yearly supply of ice.

"We Want Work. Most of the men connected with our establishment are married with families to support and would find it hard to be laid off at this time of year. If you have anything in the way of furniture repairing or re-finishing that you can have done as well now as later, you might be willing to do so, when you can believe that it will do us all good at the present time. Buchan & Francis, 12 Main St."

25 Years Ago — January, 1941

Mrs. Henry S. Jenkins and Mrs. Colver J. Stone have issued invitations to 250 people to attend a tea they are giving for the benefit of the American Bureau of Medical Aid to China Inc., of which Mrs. Cornelius A. Wood is chairman.

Albert E. Gilman of Lowell St. and William McKenzie of Whittier St., well-known clerk in Lowe's drug store, will be the next two Andover boys to enter military training.

How would you like your garbage collected twice a week without charge to you? Last night some dozen or so local men who now engage in private garbage collection met with the town garbage committee and heard plans for municipal collections.

John MacKenzie, who placed fourth last year in the school board race, is again in the field this year.

If you tune in on Station WMS at 9:15 of a Monday night and hear the Williamstown Hit Parade, you'll be hearing Bob Hinman, son of Andover's George W. Hinman, earning his way through college. A sophomore at Williams, Bob is running a half-hour program on the same principle as the nation-wide Hit Parade which is now tied up in the ASCAP controversy.

10 Years Ago — January, 1956

The town meeting will be asked to allow the town manager form of government to be placed on the ballot for consideration by all the voters.

All building records in the town were shattered in 1955. Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman said this week that permits for 210 new homes were issued in 1955 at a value of $3,669,300.

A decision will be reached Saturday on a 48-hour work week for firefighters. Selectman Stafford Lindsay said a selectmen's meeting that day will take up the shorter work week while considering the fire department budget with Chief Henry Hilton. The 48-hour week will cost $12,000 for the remainder of 1956 and may

A Tired American

Because this editorial by Allan McIntosh of the Rock County Herald (Laverne, Minn.) touches so many sensitive nerve ends, it has been widely reprinted. It is virtually certain that every reader will find he has at least one gripe in common with the writer.

I am a tired American. I am tired of being called the ugly American. I'm tired of having the world pan-handlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am a tired American — weary of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American — weary of being lectured by Gen. de Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American — weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and kick him on the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters.

I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American — fed up with the mobs of scabby faced, long-haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which America grew to greatness.

I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars.

I am a tired American — who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched American in an obscenity race — who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture — in the arts, the movies, literature, the stage.

I am a tired American — weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins — who prefer Chinese communism to capitalism — who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American — who has lost all patience with that civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American — who is angered by the self-righteous breast-beater critics in America, at home and abroad, who set impossible yardsticks for the United States but never apply the same standards to the French, the British, the Russians, the Chinese.

I am a tired American — sickened by the slack-jawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a tired American who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their children to private schools.

I am a tired American who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed.

They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American — real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest Nation in all the world — a generous-hearted Nation — a Nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears "The Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those chilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole.

I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen — a Nation under God, truly with mercy and justice for all.

Now Is The Time

Any time is a good time to write your hometown newspaper to express an opinion on something in the news, agree or disagree with an editorial opinion or advance a suggestion on what could be done to solve community problems etc.

But this is a particularly good time. We are approaching another Town Meeting. Candidates are announcing, the warrant is ready and the coming weeks the TOWNSMAN will be doing its best to spell out the issues.

Rather than wait until Town Meeting to put your opinion on the line, why not do it now and in the weeks ahead write letters to the editor of this newspaper? The more each subject is aired in advance of March, the better chance we have for action by an informed electorate, both on election day and when the warrant is presented.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman
In a news item in a remote corner of the Lawrence Tribune of Saturday, January 15, we read that "the selectmen have been unable to determine the names of the persons entitled to the 'Shorten property' taken by eminent domain, and that they, the selectmen, have filed a petition with the Superior Court for permission to deposit the money ($32,500) in a savings bank or some other institution to accumulate for the persons entitled to this money."

This raises several questions:
1. With whom have the selectmen been negotiating these many months?

2. Was not a title-search undertaken to determine the actual owner of record?

3. Has the property been conveyed to owners unknown in the interim?

4. If the stated sum is deposited in an account payable to The Inhabitants of the Town of Andover, to whom does the interest accrue?

5. If deposited in a separate account, under whose name shall it be deposited?

There are but a few simple questions asked by an "ignorant" inhabitant, but perhaps some straightforward answers might help him to better understand the intricacies of political machinations.

Robert Goodwin

82 Central St.

The sum voted and the amount to be deposited is $32,500.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The selectmen have been negotiating with the Shortens who will almost certainly receive the $32,500 approved for purchase of the Shorten property when a title flaw is corrected.

The town is operating under the provisions of a 1964 statute which permits a municipality to make such a deposit in land taking cases when the title is not in perfect order.

The funds are deposited in the name of the Judge of the Superior Court and the interest accrues to the town until it receives the money in question. It will be the town's money.

Recently while traveling in the far reaches of the state, a stranger to me paid Andover an exceptional compliment. Upon being introduced he remarked: "You come from one of the few remaining towns that do not greet you with a liquor store on their main street. Perhaps you don't realize what a pleasure it must be to live in such a town."

West Andover residents and persons interested in industrial development in Lowell Junction appeared at a hearing of the planning board last Thursday night to express their views. Opinion was about evenly split among those attending, with a slight majority for development in the two areas. A new town hall may be requested by the selectmen in the town warrant. A decision will be made by the end of the week on whether or not to ask the voters to approve $450,000 for a new town house.

MISS MARJANET A. WORRELL

Missionary Speaks Here

Miss Marjanet A. Worrell, missionary of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society to South India will speak at Andover Baptist Church on Sunday, at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Worrell is principal of the American Baptist Mission Middle School at Kavali, Andhra Pradesh (Province), South India, where approximately 450 young people are enrolled. She also directs the work of evangelism among the women, girls and children in a 2000 square mile area. This entails supervision of 16 Bible women who work with their own people to tell the story of Jesus. In addition, she has overall charge of all women's work for the Samavesam (convention) of Telugu Baptist Churches of South India. Another responsibility which she carries for the Samavesam is that of adult literacy and she has done considerable translation of materials for use in this program both by Baptists and other member groups of the Andhra Christian Council.

A Californian by birth, Miss Worrell studied at Los Angeles City College. She received her B.A. degree from Baptist Missionary Training School, Chicago, and she is presently studying for a master's degree in education at the University of Southern California.

Miss Worrell is in the United States at present on furlough. During this period she is studying at Gordon Divinity School, Wenham, Mass. She is a member of Sunnyside Baptist Church, Los Angeles, California.

Bible Study Course Open

The Weekday School of Biblical Studies will begin its second term registration on Tuesday. Classes for the second term will begin on Feb. 8 and registration will continue through that time.

Parents may bring their children to South Church on Tuesday during the time the school meets or may register their child through the education office of their local church.

The Weekday School, sponsored by the Andover Council of Churches, is open to all students of junior high age. The curriculum, set to meet the standards of academic excellence of the public school system, deals with the plain content of the English Bible. Dedicated and highly trained teachers present this material in a fascinating and responsible way, thereby giving the student an opportunity to come into contact with and familiarize himself with one of the main streams of western civilization.

Parents should not feel that by entering their children during the second term, that they will not be able to keep up with the work. Each class is geared to the needs and abilities of the students.

TB Testing Is Arranged

A tuberculin testing program will be conducted for Andover students in grades one, nine and eleven during the week of Feb. 7.

The Tine Test is to be used. For this, the four plastic tines of a small metal disc are pressed for a second onto the fore arm while coated with a proteine testing material.

This test is to be read in 48-72 hours. There may be a slight reaction in some cases, however, health officials report that this does NOT mean the student has tuberculosis. It does mean that a more sensitive test is required. A positive reaction to the second test would indicate that at some time enough TB germs have been in the body to cause a skin reaction, making it advisable to schedule a chest X-ray to rule out the possibility of damage to the lungs.

School nurses will conduct the program which is sponsored by the Andover School and Health Departments, the Essex County Health Assn. and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

CRONIN NOT RUNNING

"I have concluded that expanded duties in the months ahead will demand even more of my time, therefore it is with deep personal regret that I shall not stand for re-election as selectman in March of 1966.

"I am glad to have been able to serve for the past three years and I am grateful that I can continue to serve you in my capacity as administrative assistant to Congressman F. Bradford Morse.

"I pledge my support to the manager and the new board of selectmen to keep Andover moving ahead, to keep Andover the type of community of which we can all be proud.

"I would like to thank the many people who have honored me with their support in the past and hope that if I have the privilege to serve them in an elective position in the future that I will continue to merit their support."

Just twenty-five at the time he campaigned for the selectman's post in 1963, Cronin is the youngest man ever elected to the town's governing board.

Plans For Elementary Summer School Studied

Arthur G. Danforth, director of summer school programs for Andover public schools, said this week that though he is researching the subject, he would not be ready until February to lay specific plans for the three two-week classes to be held this year for elementary children.

The program was voted by the School Committee at last week's meeting and $1,400 budgeted, $900 of it for teachers and supervision and $200 for expenses.

The board made its decision on the school after hearing a letter from Mrs. George H. Bixby and Mrs. Alan F. French who said they were speaking for a group from the League of Women Voters in suggesting such a summer session.

What they proposed was an enrichment type program open to all elementary children.

Giving specific suggestions on scheduling, offered as an outgrowth of information gathered in preparation of the league booklet

"About the School of Andover," the women outlined a program which would include art, music, a "discovery" science project, an Audubon sort of program and perhaps a drama workshop for older children.

Newcomers Off To Hub

The "Fun in the Hub" group, sponsored by the Newcomers' Club, will visit the Boston Museum of Fine Arts Jan. 26. They will gather at Shawshaven Plaza at 9 a.m. to board the bus, returning to Andover in the early afternoon.

Mrs. Richard Katz, head of the new group, has announced that upon arrival at the museum the newcomers will have an hour to visit any section of the famous institution. Of particular interest will be the Stuart portraits, the Copley exhibit, the period furniture, as well as collections of the works of modern painters and sculptors.

Luncheon will be served the Andover group in the museum's restaurant. Later they will have a private tour of the galleries with a special guide.

Mrs. Charles Melfi, 50A Washington Park Dr., should be contacted at once by anyone who wants to join the second "Fun in the Hub" venture.

League Tour

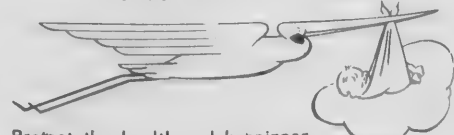

Several members of the League of Women Voters of Andover and some of their husbands spent last evening at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational - Technical School.

Students in the culinary arts program at the school prepared and served a gourmet dinner to the group under the guidance of Edward Coakley, chef instructor.

Following dinner the group toured the facilities with Fred S. Tarbox, chairman of the district school committee, and James A. Booth, principal of the school. Both men are Andover residents.

Children Send Morale Cards

The third and fourth grade students of the Henry C. Sanborn School were enthusiastic participants in the Townsman's "Operation Morale."

The teachers of these grades, Mrs. Florence Read, Mrs. Margaret Gritsavage, Miss Bonnie Baker, Miss Virginia Finn, Miss Anne O'Neill and Mrs. Martha Beaumont felt that perhaps the soldiers in Viet Nam would enjoy holiday greetings from Andover school children.

The project was explained to the pupils who immediately wanted to become a part of "Operation Morale." Each third and fourth grader created his own original card and greeting. Some included names in the cards.

Cards were sent to all the men whose names appeared on the Townsman's list.

St. Joseph Poremba, back in the states after being wounded, recently visited the school to express his appreciation and the children received a thank-you note from Lt. Lawrence Buote.

NEWMAN CANDIDATE

Newman's interest in education has led him to make surveys of curriculum, techniques, organization and facilities at top rated school systems. He has addressed a number of organizations on such topics as the Willis Report and programs for the improvement of school systems.

On the 1965 Andover Educational Conference committee, he was responsible for the research of material that was utilized in exhibits at the conference last November.

The attorney is married to the former Harriet Wolfson of Brookline. Their children, Marc and Carol, are students at the Carnegie Institute of Technology and the Andover Junior High School respectively.

In announcing his candidacy, Newman released the following statement:

"The field of education has been shaken to its very roots by the release of new concepts and innovations from a logjam caused by administrative sterility and stagnation.

Because the entire spectrum of education is in such a state of exciting ferment, it can be expected that each element of the spectrum will be altered. However, few, if any, of these new concepts have penetrated the "educational curtain" of Andover. The responsibility for this "Magnet Line" thinking must be laid squarely at the door of those responsible for the management and administration of our children's education."

"This type of thinking which has characterized and dominated our schools for too long a time is clearly evidenced by the following:

1. Failure to determine if the fundamental objectives of our educational purposes are being fulfilled.

2. Failure to consider and evaluate the increasing number of new concepts and innovations.

3. Failure to review and consider the recommendations of the Willis Report, the blue print for the future.

4. Failure to review and consider Dr. T. Sizars provocative suggestions submitted to the 1965 Andover Educational Conference.

5. Spending by far most of the School Committee's effort on items other than the course of instruction, techniques and facilities, the most important area within the purview of the Committee.

6. Acceptance of an obsolete design for a new high school at an excessive cost.

7. Refusal to sanction a racial survey required by law; but subsequently at another meeting approved the census.

8. Failure to utilize business-like methods in the consideration and approval of the budget."

Maguire Is Given Award

Vincent J. Maguire, 225 S. Main St., is among 655 Massachusetts students awarded General Court scholarships for the 1965-66 academic year.

A second-year student at Tufts University School of Medicine, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Maguire. His brother, John, is the newly elected co-captain of the AHS football team.

An alumnus of St. John's Preparatory School, Danvers, the local scholarship winner was graduated magna cum laude from Tufts University in 1964, where he completed all requirements for his degree in three and one-half years. In his senior year, he received the $500 Carmichael prize in physics. During his school vacations, Maguire has worked in the Massachusetts General Hospital pathology department. He hopes to become a surgeon.

WARRANT SET

Certain to be controversial is the article for a tax equalization study, envisioned as an updating of the re-assessment job done nearly ten years ago.

Such a study has been recommended by the board of assessors and is considered necessary to correct inequities that have developed since the last re-assessing.

It is believed the major discrepancies will show up in land values and officials point to recent transfers of downtown properties where sale prices have proved to be two and three times the assessed valuations.

Questioned about the study, Manager Bowen said the purpose is to assure the equitable distribution of the cost of local government. "Since we must rely so heavily on local property taxes as a major source of revenue, the burden must be distributed as equitably as possible. Everyone must carry his fair share," he said.

Though the manager said the primary aim of the study would not be to increase tax revenues, he admitted that the survey could be expected to turn up more than enough new money to pay for itself.

Other Articles

Four significant but not so costly articles have been inserted in the warrant at the request of the Conservation Commission. The first would create a conservation fund, two others would transfer a total of $11,500 from existing funds (the bulk of it from that set aside for land acquisition) and the fourth would appropriate an additional $10,000, giving the commission a total of $21,500 for the purchase of areas which it feels should be preserved for the protection of water supplies, as green areas or for other conservation purposes.

Seven private articles are listed for voter consideration. Three call for rezoning.

One would put a house owned by Fred W. Bradley at the corner of Stevens and Main St. into business rather than an apartment zone.

Another would rezone Jacques-owned land at Rt. 93 and Lowell Street to permit construction of a garden apartment development. And a third would reclassify acreage on the Tewksbury line, near Ames Pond, for shopping center use. The sponsor, A. J. Tambone Co. of Woburn, has made one previous attempt to get this same area re-zoned for a shopping center that would be built on both sides of the Andover-Tewksbury line. Selectman William Stewart said it would be important at Town Meeting to learn whether Tambone planned to put the stores or the parking lot on the Andover site. This comment referred to the fact that Andover could expect to net little in tax revenues if it drew the parking area.

An article calling for the sale of town owned land on Lupine Road is sponsored by George Westhaver who opposed sale of the same plot at last year's town meeting when it was known that Augustine Sheehy would be an interested bidder if a public sale were held. Sheehy wanted the plot for storage of trucks. Westhaver's interest is in behalf of South Congregational Church whose cemetery adjoins the land in question.

Two private articles call for sewer expansion. Residents on Wild Rose Drive and Holly Terrace are asking for $24,000 and residents on Shipman Road for $20,500 for sewer lines, the cost to be recouped through betterment assessments.

The final, and probably the most controversial private article, is sponsored by a group of 10 citizens who would have Town Meeting authorize a dog leashing by-law.

Preparation of the warrant in its final form is now underway at the town clerk's and will be printed in full in the February 3 issue of the TOWNSMAN.

CONVENTION BOUND
James Devine and Alphonse A. Pepin of James J. Devine Inc., Andover, will attend the 10th annual American Rental Association Convention and Rental Equipment Show in Washington, D. C. Feb. 14-17.

ROBERT F. PEARCE

Leadership Conference

Robert F. Pearce, professor of human relations at Boston University's college of business administration and former senior associate with Leadership Development Associates of New York City, will direct a three-day residential conference in early February on development of leadership skills.

Designed for managers who want to increase their leadership effectiveness, the conference at the Andover Inn will focus on individual patterns and demonstrate methods of self-assessment and improvement.

Details are available through Dr. Edwin B. Cox, assistant dean for executive education.

Camp Fire Girls

Mrs. Louise Anderson, 26 Morris St., was named new president of the Merrimack Valley Camp Fire Council at its recent annual meeting at Andover Inn.

Other officers of the 1966 council are Mrs. Allyn Stillman, secretary; Mrs. Wells McLean, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Moore, hardt, organization; Mrs. Herman Rochwarg, program; Mrs. Richard Moody and Mrs. Paul Lindsay, Camping co-chairmen; Mrs. Gilbert Cromie, Mrs. Robert Scribner, Mrs. Jan Newhouse and Mrs. Walter Platt, training; Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, candy; Mrs. James Reid, publicity; Mrs. Howard Young, adult membership and Mrs. Roger Collins, nominating.

Mrs. Robert Buxbaum spoke to the group about her experience among the Apaches with whom she and Dr. Buxbaum lived for two years. She showed pictures of the Indians and described the particular way of life. On display for the Camp Fire members were examples of Indian crafts, including dolls, beadwork, cradle boards and hand woven baskets.

Rainbow Girls

Local members of Eastern Star voted recently to sponsor a rainbow order for girls. Mrs. Dantos, worthy matron of the Andover chapter, has announced the new organization will be for girls aged 12 to 20.

Miss Blanche Robinson of Birch tree, supreme deputy of the Order of Rainbow in Massachusetts, discussed the formation of the unit with Eastern Star members at their last meeting.

READY FOR THE MOTHERS MARCH, Mrs. Lawrence Spiegel, who is co-chairman for the Jan. 30 drive.

Mothers March Jan. 30

Mrs. Lawrence (Barbara) S. Spiegel, 76 Holt Rd. and Bruce Dodd, 43 Summer St., have been appointed Mothers March co-chairmen for the 1966 Andover March of Dimes Campaign. It was announced today by Gerald Lewis, Andover town chairman.

"We are most fortunate to have both Mrs. Spiegel and Mr. Dodd in charge of annual Mothers March as they have been actively involved for several years. This is very important to the organization as Mothers March day will be on Sunday, Jan. 30 Lewis said.

"I could not turn away after being shown the facts that nearly 7,800 babies are destined to be born defective in Massachusetts during 1966," Mrs. Spiegel said. "We are pleased that the Newcomer's Club will be helping this year," she continued.

Mrs. Spiegel, the mother of three daughters, is a graduate of Skidmore College and prior to marriage, was employed as a research analyst with Compton Advertising, New York City. She is a member of the Andover League of Women Voters.

Mr. Dodd, a residual polio patient, will be assisting Mrs. Spiegel by telephoning Marchers from his home.

tions and research associate in the East Asian Research Center, "The Impact of Chinese Organization on the People", Harold R. Isaacs, professor of political science at M.I.T. and former news editor, "Americans are People, too", and Felix Greene, British citizen, author, traveler and businessman, who has twice interviewed Chou En-lai, "Inside China".

In the evening, following a reception and dinner for the speakers and representative league members, Mr. Roger Hillman, former Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs and presently professor of government at Columbia, will speak on "Red China and American Foreign Policy."

Over 1,200 league members from all parts of Massachusetts plan to attend. Those going from Andover include: Mrs. Jerald M. Cornwell, Mrs. George H. Edmonds, Mrs. Edward W. Flint, Mrs. A. W. Fuller, Mrs. Howard Hamilton, Mrs. Larry Jacobson, Mrs. Alfred Kleider, Mrs. Herbert Lake, Mrs. Frank Michel, Mrs. Stephen Parson, Mrs. Frederick A. Pease, Jr., and Mrs. Lawrence S. Spiegel.

The league holds these schools in order to keep on top of government affairs of current importance and because the league believes citizens should educate themselves about the problems facing our nation so that they will be able to take thoughtful action as active participants in their government.

AIRMAN D. R. WHITE

Airman Donald R. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. White Sr., 172 Andover St., Ballardvale, has been selected for training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

The airman, a graduate of Andover High School, recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

about this question:

"A snowball . . . a skating or skiing accident . . . a slippery walk . . . any of these winter hazards could make our family liable for injury to others. Would 3¢ a day buy $25,000 of family liability insurance which would pay the medical costs of injuries to others and protect us in expensive lawsuits?"

"Mainland China, Pieces in a Chinese Puzzle," will be the subject of the 44th School of International Relations, sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts, to be held Wednesday, Jan. 26, at Kresge Auditorium, MIT.

Focusing on Mainland China, the school will deal with historical and current points of view. It will attempt to develop an understanding of the way in which the present Chinese regime has grown out of the old China, and how it represents a measure of continuity with the past, as well as a break with China's tradition.

The speakers for this annual event, sponsored by the Massachusetts league, are all experts on the subject of China, and include: John K. Tax Rate T

Town Manager Richard Bowen prefaced his budget message to the Board of Selectmen and Finance Committee, meeting in joint session Tuesday, with the good news that he is recommending continuation of the present $34 tax rate through this tax year.

With what he called the "Punch line for '66" off his mind, he proceeded to unveil a municipal budget of roughly $5.9 million, the total figure representing a $374,756 increase in expenditures over the some $5.5 million expended in 1965.

Why no tax increase? Because the town is in an excellent surplus and cash position, probably the soundest it has ever experienced, said the manager. In addition, Bowen said, an all out attempt was made in preparation of the

In his letter on behalf of New England businessmen, Morse said in his opinion an agency with 4,000 employees and a budget of approximately $40 million should not be without an administrator for such an extended period.
